

Jeppesen Contract Dispatch Service

Challenge

Airlines need to optimize the use of their resources. In today's competitive airline market, this means considering outsourcing functions such as dispatch. By contracting out for your dispatch needs, an airline can concentrate on other core functions while allowing Jeppesen to perform dispatch. Additionally, the changing and growing complexity of domestic and international flight planning makes it difficult for airlines to quickly prepare for flight operations. Jeppesen has the technology, experience and professionalism to be the trusted partner you need to meet your dispatch needs.

Solution

The Jeppesen Contract Dispatch Service allows you to outsource dispatch functions and gain a 24/7/365 Dispatch Department. Jeppesen uses FAA certified dispatchers that meet ICAO standards to provide you with the flight information and services you need. You can have confidence that your flights are being conducted in accordance with FAA and JAA regulations. Choose any or all of the services best suited for your operations:

- Dispatch/flight release/flight filing
- Flight planning
- Flight following
- Weather & NOTAM briefing
- Complete crew briefing packages

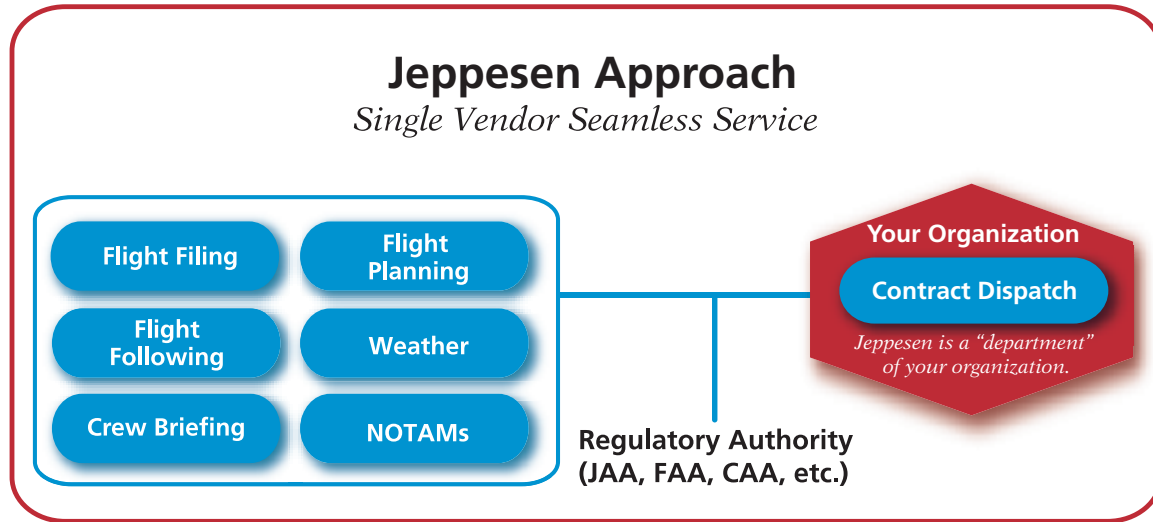

Value

Value to the airlines includes:

- Gaining a 24/7/365 dispatch capability
- Leveraging Jeppesen's aviation information systems, capabilities and expertise
- Avoiding the costs and manpower associated with "in house" dispatch
- Partnering with a recognized world leader in aviation information that can offer a full suite of services and products

Jeppesen gives you an affordable outsourced solution at a fraction of the cost you would pay if you maintained these services internally.

Jeppesen Contract Dispatch Service

Tailored to Your Requirements

Jeppesen provides a solution that is tailored to your particular needs and requirements. Flight plans are constructed using your fuel policy, your routing desires and with your aircraft's performance model. Jeppesen can provide Contract Dispatch from our Global Support and Control Center or with Jeppesen employees located on site with you to work directly with your airline.

Can be Combined with Other Services and Products

Jeppesen offers a full compliment of Air Operations Center (AOC) Services and products. Contract Dispatch can be combined with other services to give your airline even more outsourced capabilities. Jeppesen's global reach in providing aviation services helps to ensure your flight operations are accomplished effectively and efficiently.
