Flying

To me, flying is freedom. An extra dimension.
A release from earthbound cares that infest the day.
Flying elevates our spirit and perspective.
Away from the earth's madness.
Flying lifts our souls and laughs at joyless earth.
Flying reaches down like angels inviting us
to soar like freedom's birds.
We earn our wings.
And fly over the walls of discontent as we climb
up to another firmament, another dimension.
We are birds of freedom,
Our cage doors are unlocked, forever.
Our gossamer wings strengthened by our belief,
our faith and our love for flying.
